New product: Lifetime Warranty
Available: March 2008

Here's some good news for consumers who intend on purchasing memory in the form of either cards for their capturing device or flash drives for mobile storage: Lifetime Warranty Services are available for both Silicon Power Flash Memory Cards and USB Flash Drives. Having delivered consistent quality, Silicon Power, the popular brand in over 90 countries, decided to provide even better customer support by offering Lifetime Warranty services for their series of USB Flash Drive products as well as their Flash Memory Card products. Silicon Power was the first among its competitors worldwide to have Lifetime Warranty services for the Flash Memory Card products.

The warranty offers free service and repair to product damages under normal use not caused by any third-party product or component. All Silicon Power Flash Memory products have been 100% tested before they are shipped out of the factory. Top quality chips are used and a high standard of quality control is ensured. Therefore, Silicon Power is fully confident and proud to present Global Lifetime Warranty services. Our Flash Memory Cards and USB Flash Drives offer you the best choices for storing documents, pictures, music and videos for any personal and/or business purposes.

Silicon Power's Lifetime Warranty service is your lifetime companion around the world. For further detail on Lifetime Warranty conditions and related news, please go on to Silicon Power's website: www.silicon-power.com
